(MM) SASTA Study Guides are the complete resource for students preparing for Stage 2 SACE exams. These guides include questions with worked solutions covering each topic of the subject outline and address all sections of the exam. Een mysterieuze man, een moord, en de obsessie om de waarheid te achterhalen Zodra de jonge Antonio Yammara een zekere Ricardo Laverde leert kennen, begrijpt hij dat zijn nieuwe vriend een geheim met zich meedraagt, mogelijk meerdere. Zijn fascinatie voor het mysterieuze leven van Laverde verandert in een ware obsessie op de dag dat Laverde wordt vermoord. Hij heeft het idee dat de oplossing van het mysterie ook inzicht zal geven in de keuzes in zijn eigen leven. Yammara begint een onderzoek dat teruggaat tot de jaren zeventig, toen een complete generatie noodgedwongen opgroeide onder de constante dreiging van datgene wat Colombia uiteindelijk naar de rand van de afgrond zou brengen, de drugshandel. Het geluid van vallende dingen is het verhaal van een onderbroken vriendschap. Het is een dubbele liefdesgeschiedenis in weinig gunstige tijden, een onderzoek vol suspense naar het verleden van een man en een land, en een röntgenfoto van een generatie gevangen in angst.

People still think of the Cold War as a simple two-sided conflict, a kind of gigantic arm wrestle on a global scale," writes Marc Trachtenberg, "but this view fails to grasp the essence of what was really going on." America and Russia were both willing to live with the status quo in Europe. What then could have generated the kind of conflict that might have led to a nuclear holocaust? This is the great puzzle of the Cold War, and in this book, the product of nearly twenty years of work, Trachtenberg tries to solve it. The answer, he says, has to do with the German question, especially with the German nuclear question.

These issues lay at the heart of the Cold War, and a relatively stable peace took shape only when they were resolved. The book develops this argument by telling a story--a complex story involving many issues of detail, but focusing always on the central question of how a stable international system came into being during the Cold War period. A Constructed Peace will be of interest not just to students of the Cold War, but to people concerned with the problem of war and peace, and in particular with the question of how a stable international order can be constructed, even in our own day. South Australia - and the world - is entering a time of transformational change: social, economic, industrial and environmental. As a new government takes the reins, it has the power to shape the future of our state and its citizens at a crucial moment. The automotive industry has closed, but maritime shipbuilding projects are booming. Automation and artificial intelligence technologies are on the rise - and with them, both fears of jobs lost and the promise of increased productivity and wellbeing. Which way will we go? In this insightful collection of essays, some of South Australia's leading policy thinkers consider our future in the context of jobs, our economy and its drivers, industrial relations, law and order, the environment, education, health (including ageing and aged care) and more. NSA is a comprehensive collection of international nuclear science and technology literature for the period 1948 through 1976, pre-dating the prestigious INIS database, which began in 1970. NSA existed as a printed product (Volumes 1-33) initially, created by DOE's predecessor, the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission (AEC). NSA includes citations to scientific and technical reports from the AEC, the U.S. Energy Research and Development Administration and its contractors, plus other agencies and international organizations, universities, and industrial and research organizations. References to books, conference proceedings, papers, patents, dissertations, engineering drawings, and journal articles from worldwide sources are also included. Abstracts and full text are provided if available.
